PORTLAND PLACE.

4th Nov. 1874

Mr Ernest Crosse served previously me as dresser in King's College Hospital and has also held clinical appointments under my colleagues both in the Medical and in the gynaecological department. He has thus had ample opportunities for acquiring practical familiarity with his profession; the best qualification for the appointment which he now seeks, that of Junior Resident Medical Officer at the Royal Free Hospital.
