Hearts of gold rewarded

SEVEN people from the Andover area were recently acknowledged for their outstanding voluntary work within the borough — receiving Test Valley Awards from the Mayor, Cllr Eric Sier.

This is the third year the awards have been presented and the Mayor said: "I know you don't do it for glory but I hope that in some small way this recognises your good work."

The recipients were:— Mr Owen Fryer of Holly Walk, Andover, for his commitment to working with divorced/separated parents and their children, including the operation of a Helpline in association with the Citizens Advice Bureau.

Mrs Gladys Horton of Foxcotte Close, Charlton, for her gentle and kind work with the care of the elderly and sick.

Brothers Jamie and Gary Paynter of Clarendon Avenue, Andover, for their support and commitment to the MENCAP

Senior Gateway Youth Club.

Mrs Joan Stone of The Tallet, Broughton, for over 30 years of service to the village, including being the founder member of the Broughton General Fund and the Broughton Luncheon Club for pensioners.

And Mrs Joan Thomas of March End, Doctors Hill, Sherfield English who started the Romsey Opportunity Group in 1971 in her own home.
