DR. CUSSE,

BROUGHTON,

STOCKBRIDGE.

The Irish call this

Whisky Punch, but do not let us wrangle over a name -

It is an ordinary thick tumbler which has been warmed, put one adroze lump of sugar, - a ring of thin

Lemon Peel - & a silver Spoon -

Fill the tumbler ne quarter full of water, as near boiling point as possible -

Cover over until sugar is dissolved - add ne wine glassful, of a small one, of the best whisky you can find -

Then drink - for should you attempt to add any more water you will incur the lifelong contempt of any doctor present -

20. You can not be complete without a 1/4 of above -
